LINCOLN, NE – Governor Jim Pillen has issued a disaster declaration for 23 counties resulting from storms that impacted the state earlier this month. Thunderstorms from Aug. 8 – 11 resulted in exceptionally high winds and heavy rain and caused significant damage to public property and infrastructure.

The Governor's declaration applies to the following counties: Burt, Butler, Cass, Dodge, Douglas, Fillmore, Gage, Harlan, Jefferson, Johnson, Lancaster, Nemaha, Nuckolls, Otoe, Pawnee, Saline, Sarpy, Saunders, Seward, Thayer, Washington, Webster and York. Estimated damage currently exceeds $24 million. As a result, state funds can be directed to assist those areas as necessary.

NACO Hosts Property Tax 101 for Nebraska Senators

NACO welcomed senators and legislative aides to our office on Thursday for a Property Tax 101 session. The discussion provided valuable insight into property tax policy and assessment, as well as its implications for Nebraskans. Attendees also heard from the Nebraska Association of School Boards' presentation of 'TEEOSA 101.'

NACO will host a similar event for senators and their staff on September 17.

Legislative Interim Studies Scheduled

The Legislature's standing committees have begun scheduling public hearings in September and October on interim study resolutions. Some resolutions are a deeper dive into bills that were introduced during the last session and others are ideas for bills that will be introduced in 2026.

Among the studies on issues affecting counties, on September 5, the Natural Resources Committee will hear LR159, an interim study to examine the nameplate capacity tax rate and how it affects privately developed renewable energy in Nebraska.

Controlled burn permits will be examined on September 12 under LR235.

On September 19, the committee will hear LR225 that would examine the need for a Green Amendment that was proposed as LR22CA during the 2025 session. LR22CA, if passed by the Legislature and adopted by voters, would require the state and political subdivisions to serve as trustees for the state's natural resources.

Hearings are scheduled in October on the Open Meetings Act (LR192), unfunded mandates (LR195), county initiatives and referendums (LR253), and riparian weed control funding (LR168). A full list of hearing dates and locations can be found here.

Some hearings are limited to invited testimony but public comments are accepted through the online comment button for each resolution.

Savi: Important Updates on the SAVE Plan

As of May 5, the Department of Education has resumed collections on defaulted federal student loans. That means borrowers behind on payments could face wage garnishment, tax refund withholding, and more.

If you're unsure about your loan status—or know you're behind—you're not alone. Over 9 million borrowers are in default or serious delinquency.

Our partner Savi can help you check your status, avoid or recover from default, and take action fast. Join our next webinar to learn more, or get started with an account today.

Policy Updates: The SAVE Plan

- The SAVE Plan is still on hold due to a federally issued court injunction
- Borrowers already enrolled in SAVE were automatically placed into a General Forbearance, and will remain there until the litigation is resolved.
- Under this forbearance:
 - You do NOT have to make your monthly payments on your student loans \
 - Interest IS accruing [July 9 ED announcement: Interest WILL start to accrue August 1]
 - Time spent does NOT provide credit toward Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF)
- Currently only two ways borrowers in SAVE can receive PSLF credit:
 - Enroll/switch into a different IDR plan (PAYE, ICR or IBR) to resume making qualifying monthly payments for PSLF.

“Buy back” months of PSLF credit for time spent in SAVE forbearance by submitting a “PSLF Buyback Request” via ED (must have 120 months of certified PSLF employment to be eligible)

Policy Updates: Other IDR Plans (Non-SAVE)

- Other IDR plans (PAYE, ICR & IBR) are currently available for eligible borrowers to enroll
- But borrowers should expect lengthy delays when enrolling, recertifying, or switching IDR plans right now due to massive application backlog
 - Dept of Ed only just recently began processing IDR applications again in May, after having been paused since the start of 2025.
 - Only 3.84% of all IDR applications submitted in 2025 have been processed, with millions of applications still backlogged.
- If you’ve submitted an IDR application recently, be prepared to wait a longer than normal to receive your results.
 - Your servicer may place you into a 60-day “processing forbearance” to allow time to process your application- and during which no payment is due.
